Welcome to the American Academy of Nursing's (Academy's) 2023 Health Policy Conference!

This year marks a momentous milestone for the organization, the Academy's 50th Anniversary. Fellows, colleagues, students, family, friends, and honored guests have traveled to the nation's capital from around the globe to commemorate five decades of advancing health through leadership and policy. More so than ever, this year will amplify and recognize the innumerable contributions and innovations of nurses at every level and setting who create healthier, more equitable communities.

In honor of the Academy's golden anniversary, the conference theme, Celebrating 50 Years of Leadership, Policy, and Partnerships, highlights the Academy's continued commitment to recognizing and applauding nurses who have led the way for the profession, the policy implications of their work, and the partnerships that enabled the accomplishments.

We are eager to build on the success of last year's Institute for Nursing Leadership's Opening Session with the next installment, Courageous Careers: Action through Boldness and Humility, which will feature inspiring speakers who have advanced their work and supported their communities in the face of adversity. Building on that theme, the event will highlight the importance of inclusion, celebrate the diversity of the profession, and examine the innovations needed to create an equitable health system with the sessions: The Rise of AI: Finding Human Design in a Growing Digital World; Health through Stories: Reckoning with the Past; Armed Conflict from Onset to Recovery: Nursing's Impact in Healing; A Focus on People with Disabilities: Championing Change for Policy Action; and Environmental Health and Social Justice Reform. We are particularly thrilled to have speakers from within and outside the profession discuss these vital topics and provide momentum for policy change.

This year, we will welcome our largest class of new Fellows, celebrate four distinguished Honorary Fellows, and recognize six renowned visionaries as Living Legends. The recognition and convening of nurse leaders are core to the Academy's mission and has been since our inception in 1973. It is the collective expertise of our over 3,000 Fellows that has enabled our organization to thrive for the past 50 years and will continue to advance the work of the profession for years to come.

To mark our historic milestone, the Academy will host the 50th Anniversary Golden Keynote: Nursing's Golden Opportunity: Creating the Future Now. This special keynote will reflect on the impact of nursing in society today and how the Academy's work has impacted health and health care. This session will inspire and equip attendees with the knowledge, skills, and resources needed to drive the movement for health equity forward.

The Board of Directors anticipates great collaboration, conversation, and inspiration throughout this year's event. At the business meeting, we look forward to presenting the Board's accomplishments to achieve the Academy's strategic vision. As an educator, nurse scientist, and healthcare provider, my greatest impact and strength has been in sharing my knowledge of the importance of lifestyle in the management of diabetes, cardiovascular disease, and cognitive impairment. I give my students the knowledge and skills that I have as a professional and a researcher.
